OCR 4th grade Unit 5 Lesson 6
Readers Theatre

Bela: Blah, blah, blah.

Boris: What is that monotonous noise?

Bela: It's me. I'm trying to drown out the blaring noise of your snoring.

Boris: I'm not snoring. I'm not even asleep!

Bela: I'm a columnist and I need silence to write.

Boris: But, I'm not making any noise. It's coming from somewhere else.

Bela: This is complicating the matter,

Boris: I have profound sympathy for you, but I'm at a loss as to what I can do.

Bela: Maybe we can temporarily block the noise.

Boris: Let's put something in our ears.

Bela: Do you have any cotton?

Boris: No, but I have chewing gum.

Bela: That might work. Let's try.

Boris: Here goes nothing!

Bela: It's working! I can't hear anything.

Boris: What? I can't hear you.

Bela: What? I can't hear you.

Boris: What? I can't hear you.

Bela: What? I can't hear you.

Boris: What? I can't hear you.
